Desperate Conditions in Mexico City Are Described in Dispatch Cabled to the United States Government.

MOBS ARE SEIZING FOOD WHEREVER IT IS FOUND

No Mention Made of Attacks on Foreigners—Entire Garrison Withdrawn to Aid Zapata Army in Opposing Carranza Forces.

Washington, June 30.—Desperate conditions in Mexico City, with unchecked mobs rioting and looting, are described in a dispatch cabled to the United States government tonight from Vera Cruz by a courier who left the Mexican capital last Friday, June 25.

When the courier started virtually the entire garrison had been withdrawn to join the Zapata army on the outskirts of the city opposing the attacking Carranza force under General Pablo Gonzalez. Gonzalez had been driven back with considerable loss but was waiting for reinforcements coming up from Vera Cruz before re-entring the city.

No mention was made of attacks upon foreigners, so officials assumed that they were safe. Many stores had been looted, the dispatch said, and great mobs were rioting and seizing food wherever it was to be found.

Dispatches forwarded to Wilson immediately to President Wilson, at Corral, N. H., and the situation which had before Secretary Lansing when he returns tomorrow from Amherst, Mass. The Mexican capital has been cut off from communication with the outside world by wire and rail for twelve days. The last previous word from there had come Monday night.

When the courier started virtually the entire garrison had been withdrawn to join the Zapata army on the outskirts of the city opposing the attacking Carranza force under General Pablo Gonzalez. Gonzalez had been driven back with considerable loss but was waiting for reinforcements coming up from Vera Cruz before re-entring the city.

Marion Letcher, for the past six years American consul at Chihuahua, Mexico, and who won the admiration of the entire nation by defying the Mexican insurgents in 1912 when they refused to recognize official communications from Uncle Sam, was a visitor in Atlanta for a few hours Wednesday.

At the beginning of the trouble in 1912 Hibernia general, Orosco, attempted to drive all Americans from Chihuahua and many had narrow escapes with their lives. Mrs. Marion Letcher and two small children, who had returned to the states, but Consul Letcher remained, although warned that his life was in danger.

The consul sent some sharp messages to Orosco, which were approved by the United States government and stood his ground until conditions were greatly improved and Letcher was hailed hero.

Surprised at Arrests. He expressed himself Tuesday as being greatly surprised at the arrest of the consul.

Forces of the Czar Still Falling Back on Broad Front Before the Advance of the Austro-Germans.

STRATEGY OF TUDONS DIRECTED AT WARSAW

Effort Being Made to Sever Russian Armies So the Polish Capital Will Be Left Unprotected—Austro-Germans Losing Heavily in Advance.

London, June 28.—The continued Austro-German progress in Galicia and across the Polish frontier is the outstanding feature of the day's war news. The armies in the west continue ducked.

The Galician forces of Grand Duke Nicholas are still falling back. In Eastern Galicia, on the Gnila Lipa river, and on the River below Kamionka Strumilowa, the Russians are offering stubborn resistance, but the Austro-Germans claim success there as well as between the Bug and Vistula rivers.

The Austro-German forces are continuing their progress in southern Poland and in the Tarnopol plain. They occupied a border height near Prampol and Zaklikow and have captured the latter place. Further northwest, they have captured Zaslav.

A brief Austro-German official communication today indicated that the "Tudons" were being held up along the Gnila, but a subsequent and fuller official statement made no such admission, although conceding that hard fighting was in progress.

On that part of the eastern front, the north and northwest of Lemberg it is claimed that the Austro-Germans are attempting to roll back the Russian forces.

The present position of the Russian forces covers a great semi-circle around Lemberg, the two tips of which, north and south of the city, are the points of attack.

Artillery Duels on Western Front. Artillery bombardments are reported from different points on the western front.

In the Italian theater the Italians are having greater activity along the front. Artillery actions are in progress.

Skilled workers have come to the assistance of the army.

F. R. Cline, of Atlanta, Signed for the Voyage to Help With the Mules, as Did Charles Driver, of Thomasville—Driver Reported Among Missing.

News Sent to President Wilson, Who Expresses Surprise in View of Recent Advices From Berlin—Action of United States Will Depend on Whether the Armenian, Which Was a British Ship, Had Been Chartered by the British Government.

Washington, June 30.—A billion dollar trade balance, the greatest in American history—in a year which has seen commerce depressed by eleven months of war, is the commercial record of the United States. Official announcement was made today at the department of commerce that the closing of the fiscal year at midnight of the first of July, the billion dollar mark had been passed.

The figures for the year ending May 31, it was announced, show a favorable balance of $931,171,479. An thirteen months which ordinarily would show a balance of $1,000,000,000.

Washington Shocked AND ORDERS INQUIRY TO GET ALL THE FACTS

News Sent to President Wilson, Who Expresses Surprise in View of Recent Advices From Berlin—Action of United States Will Depend on Whether the Armenian, Which Was a British Ship, Had Been Chartered by the British Government.

Washington, June 30.—The Dominion Freight Line Armenian, flying the British flag and carrying mules from Newport News, Va., to England, was torpedoed and sunk Monday night by the German submarine U-31 off Cape Cod, England, and nearly a score of American muleteers aboard are reported lost, according to messages to the state department today from John S. Armstrong, Jr., consul at Bristol.

Twenty-two men in all were lost and the ship was destroyed.

Newspaper Creation. The new created sensation in official quarters, as it was the first case of loss of American lives since the sinking of the Lusitania. The action of the Washington government, however, depends almost entirely on whether the Armenian was chartered by the British government and was, in fact, a transport of war abroad which Americans would sail at their own risk, or whether she was an unlicensed merchant ship.

Immediate inquiry ordered. In the absence of conclusive information.

Candler Will Today Sign and Deliver $3,500,000 Check

Single Check on New York Bank and Biggest in State's History Will Pay for the Entire Issue of Georgia Bonds.

Atlanta, June 30.—(By Mail to New Orleans, June 30.)—Bodies of men hanging from trees and telegraph poles, not in great numbers, but sufficiently conspicuous to make the landscape lurid; thousands of hungry women and children crowded into freight cars or huddled beside railway stations; destroyed bridges, wrecked trains and entire villages deserted or ruined were among the incidents observed today on journey to Jalapa from Vera Cruz, sixty miles from General Carranza's headquarters.

Mr. Candler stated at the time he made the bid that he was not interested in representing any syndicate, but was just buying the entire issue of bonds as an individual and for himself.

When Mr. Candler presents his check for the three million five hundred thousand dollars it will be the largest single check ever received by the state, and it will probably be the largest individual check ever issued in the state.

The entire new issue of state bonds will be delivered to Mr. Candler when he lets go that big check on July 1, 1915.

Wages to Be Advanced. Connellville, Pa., June 29.—W. J. Candler, president of the Georgia Railway and Navigation company, is the operator in the Connellville region. He has advanced the wages of all his employees who had advanced July 1 wages in force in 1915. The highest ever paid in the region. Several thousand men will be affected.

Dangling Corpses And Hungry Folks Common in Mexico

Trip Through Once Prosperous Section Reveals Scenes of Death, Idleness, Ruin and Human Misery.

Jalapa, Mexico, June 29.—(By Mail to New Orleans, June 30.)—Bodies of men hanging from trees and telegraph poles, not in great numbers, but sufficiently conspicuous to make the landscape lurid; thousands of hungry women and children crowded into freight cars or huddled beside railway stations; destroyed bridges, wrecked trains and entire villages deserted or ruined were among the incidents observed today on journey to Jalapa from Vera Cruz, sixty miles from General Carranza's headquarters.

Bodies dangling from trees or telegraph poles, hanged first by one faction and then by another as a warning to the many that no quarter was to be expected, were reported by Americans arriving from Oaxaca and interior points. Two such bodies were in full view of the passengers en route here from Vera Cruz.

Another incident typical of others of almost daily occurrence was the finding of the bodies of a dozen men and women who recently had been killed. A trainload of Carranza soldiers were camp followers had run into the town from which the rail had been removed by Zapata. The bodies had been carried and the soldiers and women on top of the train fell into the river below. About forty were injured.

of the German admiralty as to its report. From the messages received it appears that in addition to the torpedo at least one shot was fired from the German submarine. The consular report said the wireless house was "taken by second shot." It was not made clear whether the Armenian first was ordered to halt and resisted capture, or whether the submarine attacked without warning. The fact that the number of the submarine was given indicated that she had come to the surface to make the attack.

Mules are contraband of war, according to all the lists of the belligerents, and there can be no doubt as to the contraband character of the Armenian cargo. Officials will make an effort to learn, however, whether the vessel was armed and whether she was a part of the British naval force before the opinion of the state department was promptly telegraphed to President Wilson at Cornhill, N. J., and Secretary of State. It was considered probable that they would communicate with each other while in New England.

The messages from Consul Armstrong did not show clearly just how many Americans were lost. In his list he named twenty American citizens, eight whites and fifteen negroes—but later he spoke of Dr. J. E. V. V. Porto Rican, and three negroes as having been picked up by a submarine and other survivors by a Belgian trawler and transferred to two British destroyers which brought them to Bristol.

and has made many trips in the mule train in the past.

Officials here will inquire whether the vessel carried any British officers or what measures of control the British government had over the ship.

It is taken for granted that the Armenian was unarmed, as such vessels usually carry no guns of any description. Even if she actually had been armed, the British destroyers would have been in a position to sink her.

President Wilson Surprised.
The fact that the number of Americans lost was so small surprised President Wilson, who was informed tonight of the sinking of the Armenian.

ALLIES STORM THE TURKISH TRENCHES—Hundreds of Dead Turks Found by the Allied Troops.

London, June 30.—British troops, supported by the allied forces, have carried several lines of trenches in the neighborhood of Sagar Der, on the Gallipoli peninsula, in brilliantly executed infantry attacks. The British troops, the Lancashire and Durham regiments, engaged, and after it was over, according to General Hamilton's official report, the trenches were filled with Turkish dead and many had been buried under the wreckage caused by the first bombardment prior to the assault.

From French sources comes the prediction that an important success for the allied arms in the Gallipoli campaign is on the eve of achievement. The claim is made that the Turks on Gallipoli peninsula are showing signs of exhaustion, and that they will be unable to hold their position at Krithia much longer. Recent attacks by the allies, resulting in appreciable advance, it is said, have left the Turkish position in the trenches on the front taken by the French.

ALLIES STORM TURK TRENCHES.
London, June 30.—A British official statement issued today dealing with the operations in the Gallipoli campaign, announced that two lines of Turkish trenches had been captured and that three lines have been stormed to the west of that point.

The official statement follows:
"General Sir Ian Hamilton reports that the plan of operations for June 28 was to throw forward the left of his line southeast of Krithia, pivoting on the point about one mile from the sea and after advancing on the extreme left for about half a mile established a new line facing east on the ground thus gained."

"This plan entailed the capture of two lines of Turkish trenches on the Sagar Der and five lines to the west. An Australian corps was ordered to co-operate by making a vigorous demonstration. The action followed by a bombardment by heavy artillery. The assistance rendered by the French was valuable."

At 10:30 o'clock the field opened fire to cut the wire in front of the Turkish trenches. This was effectively done and its effect on one of the enemy's trenches was great. Accurate fire of the British and the Australian corps, and the Turkish position was destroyed. The Turkish position was destroyed. The Turkish position was destroyed.

scattered. This fort had long been a source of trouble to the allies. The French mortar and the British bombardment of the surrounding trenches was at its height. tion intended to consolidate and extend the gains realized. They have occupied several Turkish trenches and have dug some of the works over. Several counter attacks by the enemy have been repelled.

On June 27 the British left, supported by their artillery, won a great success. At the exact moment present the British captured by assault four Turkish lines at certain points and advanced nearly 1,000 meters. ROUTE THRO' EASTMAN BOOSTED AT MEETING

Delegates Enthusiastic at Reports of Progress Made in Improving Roads.

Eastman, Ga. June 30.—(Special).—An enthusiastic meeting of citizens from the different counties in the interest of the eastern route of the Dixie highway was held at the courthouse here today. W. T. Anderson, who was the principal speaker, and told in a very concise way what each county would have to do, the kind of road they should have and that they would also have to keep them in good condition.

Interesting reports from the counties of Twiggs, Bleckley, Jeff Davis and Dodge were heard and it was evident from the reports that the people are in earnest. All counties along this route are putting their roads in first-class condition and the people believe that they have a good chance of winning as it is the shortest route, and goes through some of the richest farm lands of the state.

Following the exercises at the courthouse all the visitors and representatives were served a luncheon at the Hotel Delictch by the Eastman Chamber of Commerce.

The following program was carried out:

Meeting called to order by W. L. Jessup, president Eastman Chamber of Commerce; invocation, Rev. W. E. Towns; address by W. T. Anderson, president of the Dixie highway; report of the progress by the commissioners of the several counties; adjournment and luncheon.

BIRMINGHAM ROUTE TO TAKE LEGAL FORM AT MEETING IN ROME

Rome, Ga. June 30.—(Special).—A good road rally second to none ever held in the south was held in Rome today, July 1, here in the interest of the Birmingham and the Dixie highway. The meeting was held in the hall of the Forrester Highway association, it was the purpose of the meeting to construct a branch from Birmingham to Rome, and to connect the Dixie highway at Rome. The board of county commissioners of the county of Forsyth, Alabama, is coming in today. Former Senator Frank C. Johnson, of Alabama, and Congressman John L. Burnett, and other leading men of Alabama will come, and at the same time a business meeting of the Dixie Highway association for the western route will be held, attended by the official committee and county commissioners of the counties between Rome and Chattanooga.

A delegation from the Chattanooga Automobile club and officers of the Dixie Highway association will be here. Exercises will be held at De Soto park, the thinking taking place in the auditorium, and a picnic dinner will be eaten on the grounds. The Dixie Highway association will entertain visiting Rotarians with a barbecue.

DEFI SENT BEAVERS BY ALLEGED ROBBER

I. H. Cheek Tells the Chief of Police He Will Be Hard to Catch.

I. H. Cheek, wanted by the Atlanta police on a charge of complicity in the highway robbery of Mr. Jones, W. L. Kelley, in Inman Park, several months ago, has written Chief of Police James L. Beavers a defiant note as follows:

"If you catch me, I'll get away. I am now in Baltimore."

Cheek was once under arrest in the county jail in connection with this robbery, and was released by a municipal court judge when his case was called in court, and the city detectives, who were the prosecutors with Mr. Kelley, did not in court. The detectives claim that they had no notice of the trial of Cheek, and that they had not been heard of since he had been released. Two men were recently sentenced to twenty years in the state prison for the robbery of a man named Bell, who was shot and killed instantly in an explosion of dynamite in the East Point district, where he was working as a state convict, and Clyde Belcher, who is now making his time.

ROME COMMISSIONERS HAVE STORMY SESSION

Rome, Ga. June 30.—(Special).—Sensational charges were voiced by City Commissioner E. E. Lindsey at a meeting of the commission held yesterday because First Commissioner Gammon secured a contract for the opening of a street in the southern part of the city. The contract, however, was sustained by a vote of the other commissioners. The contract provided for the location of a concrete culvert on private property in exchange for a right of way of thirteen feet of land adjacent to the present street.

Commissioner Lindsey declared that the erection of the culvert would cost more than $3,000, which was in excess of the value of the property. First Commissioner Gammon maintains that the contract is an advantageous one for the city, and that the culvert will cost only about $1,000.

GREAT CROP OF GRAIN RAISED IN DOUGHERTY

Corn Crop to Be Bumper One. A Ready Market for Wheat.

Albany, Ga. June 30.—(Special).—After harvesting the heaviest crop ever made in south Georgia, the farmers of this section are beginning to wonder what they are going to do with a crop of corn that will tremendously overshadow any production of former years.

It is now certain that the corn yield will be of bumper proportions. Never have the fields been in finer condition. There has been an abundant rainfall, though it has been so distributed that the fields could be kept free from grass. The appearance of the fields is all that could be desired.

To this must be added the fact that the acreage is by many thousands of acres greater than ever before since farming began in this section. It is the record corn crop in acreage, and as well as the fact that the production per acre, as better methods than heretofore are being employed, it is generally estimated that the increased acreage is from 25 to 40 per cent in this section of the state.

As a natural outgrowth of the increase of the grain crops has come a large increase of the size of swine herds on south Georgia farms. As a rule, the farmers are raising hogs on corn. At a recent sale of registered hogs and boars in Albany, the prices ranged from $15 each for young sows with litters only a few days old. Many thousands of dollars have been invested in brood sows and boars during the year.

The farmers say that while they will not have the corn surplus they expect to have, they expect to market some of it at the butcher shops and smoking plants, disposing of their hogs as "corn rendered porkers, sure to command the highest prices."

This is the first year since the civil war that wheat in carloads has been shipped from southwest Georgia counties, in some of which yields of forty bushels an acre were reported. The wheat found ready sale at good prices, but a trifle under the quotations for best northwestern wheat.

REVENUE OFFICIAL IS TRIED AT ROME ON-MURDER CHARGE

Rome, Ga. June 30.—(Special).—Oscar Bradley, a bailiff, acting as posse man for United States Deputy Revenue Officer W. A. Wardlaw, is on trial here charged with the murder of R. L. Dalton, who lived near Lafayette in Walker county. The officer was charged with violating the internal revenue law as an illicit distiller. It is alleged that he was attempting to escape when shot. Five shots were fired by Bradley, and one taking effect.

Judge W. W. Lambdin, who is presiding in the case, is a native of Dalton, who had a legal right to question if he thought it necessary to prevent Dalton's escape, and that the question for the jury was to determine whether or not it was necessary. John W. Henley, assistant United States district attorney, is defending Bradley, and is assisted by several attorneys of Rome and Lafayette. Solicitor General W. H. Egan, of Rome, is representing the state in the prosecution. A civil suit is also brought by the widow against the two officers for $10,000 compensation as the value of her husband's life.

BURFORD OPENS TODAY BOOSTER CHAUTAUQUA

Jeffries, of Atlanta, will address the Burford Chautauqua on Saturday, home day, and the Burford Chautauqua on Sunday, home day. BODIES FOUND IN RIVER REVEAL DOUBLE MURDER Remains of Epp Melton and John Leak Recovered From the Chattahoochee.

West Point, Ga. June 30.—(Special).—Bodies of two white men, who had evidently been murdered, were found floating in the Chattahoochee river this morning by Manley Hunt of riverview, who was out on the river fishing. The bodies were later identified as Epp Melton and John Leak, of Riverview, who had been missing since last Saturday. Methodist church in Lawton last week received their pay as usual and left with two men who had been painting on a same church for riverview. One body had a rope around the neck and the other had a deep gash on the head. The coroner gave a verdict that the two came to death by unknown hands.

Melton, it is reported, killed a man by the name of Ted in Harris county several years ago. Everything indicates that the men were murdered and the bodies thrown in the river, hide the crime. One of the bodies was tied to a trot line, being strung on the line as a fish. An incision had been made in the neck and the line passed through the mouth.

EMERSON HOUGH Wrote

"THE BROKEN COIN"

It is the greatest novel the author of "The Mississippi Bubble" and "54.40 or Fight" ever wrote, which means that it is the novel of the year---that it is a story of love, adventure and mystery which will keep you enthralled from the first chapter to the last.

"THE BROKEN COIN" will be published serially in The Atlanta Constitution---beginning Sunday, a full page every week for fifteen weeks. It will not appear in book form until it has been published in The Constitution.

The adventures of Kitty Gray, as related by America's foremost story-teller, the country's greatest novelist, will be followed by you with intense interest. It is a serial for the whole family to read.

Watch For the First Installment Sunday.

To add to the interest in this great work, the various installments of "The Broken Coin," following publication in The Constitution, will be presented in moving picture form at Atlanta's leading movie theaters.
